

Farmyard Bingo

Getting ready

Now you have printed out your bingo set you will need to cut out the individual cards and put them into a bag or container. These will be picked out at random during the game.

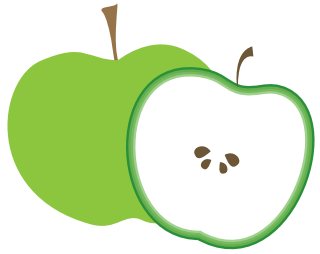

To play you can either use counters to place on top of the farmyard pictures that have been called, or you could laminate the boards and use dry erase crayons to mark the boards and then wipe clean after each use.

There are 20 different boards so you can have up to 20 players.

How to play

The bingo caller places all the farmyard cards into the bag and each player receives a bingo board. One at a time the caller pulls a card from the bag and announces the word on the card. The card gets displayed on the callers table and players cross off the corresponding image on their bingo board. The first player to get a line of images shouts “Line”. Play then continues until a player marks off all the images on their card. When this happens they must shout “House”.
